

REACH (EC 1907/2006)

Article 33 Reach Obligations

bdtronic is committed to meeting the requirements of the REACH Regulation (EC) No. 1907/2006 in close cooperation with our suppliers. We meet the requirements placed on us by the REACH Regulation and regularly track changes to the REACH Regulation as well as the candidate list.

As a systems manufacturer, we are, where specified by the REACH Regulation, informed by our suppliers, who are also obliged to inform us, amongst other things, about compliance with the requirements of the REACH Regulation and changes induced by the REACH Regulation to products supplied to us.

We integrate assemblies and components manufactured according to our specifications where substances or mixtures included in the REACH Regulation are not purchased directly from the manufacturers. We will regularly inspect the integrated assemblies and components manufactured according to our specifications, if necessary, to ensure that they comply with the requirements of the REACH Regulation. Our suppliers will pass on information about application-specific risks, recommended measures and safety data sheets if required. We will be happy to provide you with the necessary information if we have not already done so.

As soon as we are informed that we are obliged to provide information about assemblies integrated by us or components manufactured according to our specifications in accordance with the REACH Regulation, we will immediately provide information about this automatically without a prior request.

We would also like to point out that we only use suppliers from EU countries / Switzerland when purchasing auxiliary and operating materials.
